Judge W. F. Woodward had five cases to consider when he opened the session of the town court Monday—an over-Sunday collection of prisoners awaiting his attention, other cases being those of persons not held at the station.

Zelotus Pike and William Pike, father and son, residents near Brooklyn, were fined for having been intoxicated—and paid. The father was locked up early Saturday evening, the son soon afterwards, because he persisted in arguing with the officers about his father's arrest.

Edmond Flagg, Willimantic, was fined $5 and costs for having assaulted Joseph Watts, of the same village. A capias had been issued for Watts, who failed to appear against Flagg Saturday, when the case was to have been heard, but the officers could not locate the man, who was punished by Flagg a few days ago.

Mike Quigley, transient, was sent to Brooklyn jail for 30 days—intoxication.

Lily May Morin, East Killingly, was to have had a hearing on a charge of having committed a breach of the peace. She asked for a continuance in order to secure counsel and this was granted by the court. When the matter of furnishing a bond for her appearance was taken up, she offered to await trial at the police station, but a bond was furnished. Mrs. Morin will have a hearing this morning.

Miss Alice Veckow of Pawtucket is visiting with Danielson friends.

Lawn Festival.

The annual lawn festival given at Daville by members of St. Joseph's parish was very much of a success. St. James' band furnished the music at the gathering.

Borough Tax Collector Edward S. Carpenter has issued the annual notices that call to the mind of taxpayers that they must pay something over and above the usual amount to meet him in the proper state of preparedness, early next month.

Henry Lambson of the West Side, now employed at Fitchburg, has visited at his home here.

Horseplay at the Park.
Harry W. Clarke, caretaker of Daville park, complains that some grown persons without the proper appreciation of respect for public property are indulging in horseplay, of pulling sprockets of the fountain and the park and throwing them around in the grassy practice that might provide amusement for a child of four years, but seems hardly within the realm of entertainment for a person who has reached years of discretion.

TOWN DEBT REDUCED
OVER $4,216 LAST YEAR

Coming Annual Reports to Show Good Management and Economy.

In the annual reports of the town of Killingly that are to be issued soon the officials will be able to announce a reduction in the indebtedness of $4,216, which is in accordance with predictions made last fall following an increase in the tax rate from 12 to 14 mills and the assurance of an increase of revenue from other sources during the fiscal year that closed on July 31, 1916.

There will be particular satisfaction in the announcement for citizens, who, interested in Killingly beyond the extent of their mere personal affairs, are anxious to see with alarm the steadily increasing public debt. For them there is the satisfaction of knowing that Killingly can pay as it goes, and, going beyond that point of necessary public efficiency, pay something on the sum of $200,000, and more, that it has managed to accumulate as a charge against itself during years gone by.

Increased economy coupled with economy in expenditure makes it possible for Killingly's officials to be engaged in preparing reports that will tell the welcome story of a shrinking debt rather than of an increasing one.

Infantile paralysis is operating to interfere with the vacation plans of many parents and children in this vicinity. Quarantine regulations put in force by a number of towns makes it difficult to take children to summer resorts.

At 4.30 Monday afternoon, almost on the triple stroke of a fire alarm, the auto-chemical shot out of its quarters on Main street and was on Nichols place, at Thompson, in less than a minute, where it was directed to a shed fire that was threatening destruction to the nearby residence.

The truck made the run in fast time and the crew was quickly at work on the fire, which was promptly subdued with the use of chemical. The house would have caught fire had it not been for the services rendered by the unknown, but it may have been caused by a spark on the roof. The auto-chemical returned here at 5.15.
